dal:um is a duo based in Seoul, performing Korea's most well-known traditional string instruments: the Gayageum (Ha Suyean) and the Geomungo (Hwang Hyeyoung).

Since their debut in 2018, dal:um have challenged the traditional sounds of these instruments, freely reforming and modernizing their sonic possibilities through their own interpretation.

The Gayageum and Geomungo may look similar but they project very different sounds from each other, and yet, produce a most exquisite and beautiful sound when played together, at times reaching a powerful and captivating dimension.
